

Thank you!

A big thank you to everyone who shared in our opening weekend events. All had a great time, and we have the memories to prove it! Yummy! Now the party hats have been put away we are busily planning our winter class schedule and members events. We are pleased to announce we will be teaming up with our friends in Ottawa to offer our intense Cast Glass Blocks course at Stained Glass Stuff March 22–25, 2013. See online at glasstronomystudios.ca or email edu@glasstronomystudios.ca for more information.

Welcome the new retail!

After much consideration, debate and compromise, we have created a modern, economically sustainable formula to provide glass crafters with the best product at the best price. Don't worry, Glasstronomy will always be stocked with the basic necessities for both stained glass and glass fusing. Project kits, special promotions, "what's new" and unique to Glasstronomy products are available at retail pricing in Studio for members and non-members alike. All other product can be ordered through our dealer direct catalogues in Studio and online through our membership programs.

As a service-focused Studio, we offer professional panel framing, pattern design, kiln firing, sandblasting, customer support and the guidance needed to select the correct material for your project.

Just in time for the holidays

We have stocked up on jewellery making supplies and a special treat: effetre glass and those cute millefiori slices! New books and your favourite Tiffany lampshade calendar are also available in Studio. System 96 has introduced charcoal and pewter to their colour range, as well as sunflower opal pebbles. We have new snowflake and three different size star bevel kits!

Studio Holiday

The Studio will be closed from Friday, December 21, 2012 through Thursday, January 3, 2013.

Membership has its benefits

Coming together to collaborate, brainstorm ideas or get inspiration, helps us grow as artists and individuals. Having a place to do those things is essential. Glasstronomy is that place, the “glass spot”. Glasstronomy offers glass enthusiasts, glass hobbyists and artists a hub for all things glass. Members enjoy the use of a bright, clean and organized work space, they have access to specialty equipment, expert advice, artistic community and so much more!

Last month we launched the first of our members’ events with “An exercise in design”. Members challenged themselves with design sprints, design themes and then finished with a design-off: Mozart v. Shakespeare. After many laughs and “ahas” later, all left inspired for the next challenge.

The Glasstronomy membership program is designed to support glass crafters on many different levels depending on need and availability. Stop by, or email members@glasstronomystudios.ca and see what a Glasstronomy membership can do for you.

Youth programs

Our Sunday youth workshops have become the new hang out for the next generation of glass artists. The workshops focus on exploring art glass through project-based instruction in a safe and open environment. To date, we have enjoyed using the mini-kilns, glasscutters and mosaic design. If you have a budding young artist at home, check out our winter series and keep an eye out for our summer camps!

Glasstronomy members’ “Cook off” event!

This interactive event will focus on innovation and collaboration. Using a variety of glass related ingredients, groups will work together to create unique pieces for the judges’ review.

The best thing is, no calories!

Date: Sunday, November 24
Time: 1–4 pm
Free to members

Glasstronomy for your next event

We are excited to present art glass parties for youth and adults alike! Surprise your guests with a completely unique experience they will talk about for weeks and remember always with the one-of-a-kind artwork they create while at your party. Hosted in our well-equipped studio, participants can create fused glass while enjoying the comfortable atmosphere and superb catering. Contact info@glasstronomystudios.ca to book your next party!
